15,000 AUSTRIANS ARE KILLED

TROOPS ARE LANDED IN FRANCE

British Forces, Safely Ashore, Begin Invasion, Is Announced

Lord Kitchener Thanks Press for Suppressing News

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Aug. 18, 5:40 p. m.—The official news bureau announces in reply to "attempts that are being made by the enemy to spread false reports of disasters to ourselves and our allies," that "no casualties have as yet occurred to the British army."

LONDON, Aug. 18.—By Censor.—The most important revelation of the war has been that of the landing of British expeditionary forces on the shores of France. Every body in England has known for two weeks that a large army was crossing the channel. The troops had been assembled at different bases, one of the largest contingents embarking at Dublin, Ireland. Many other regiments sailed from Liverpool while still others took ship at Eastbourne, Southampton and other ports along the coast of the English channel. The great canvas camps at the military stations in England were struck only when it was known definitely that the flotilla of transports conveying the troops had finished the crossing and were moving on to the front. The transportation of the soldiers lasted several days and during that time not a mention of the expedition was permitted to the newspapers. Even now the strength of the expedition, the names of the regiments composing the contingents and the ports where they landed are not allowed to be made public.

CAMPAIN ORGANIZED.
It is known, however, that a large proportion of the best troops of the British regular army are now on continental soil. The reception of the British soldiers in France was enthusiastic. The officers and men of the two armies fraternized warmly. It is pointed out in authoritative circles here that the withdrawal of the Belgian government from Brussels to Antwerp may mean that the fighting in Belgium is drawing closer to the crisis or it may be merely a pre-arranged measure. Now that the three allied armies are working together in a coherent campaign scheme, the policy of the campaign has been extended to Belgium and as a fountain of picturesque news that country has suddenly dried up.

The allies have decided for the present to bar all war correspondents from accompanying the armies, but it is thought the ban may be raised later when the military operations are well under way. Prince Alexander of Teck, brother of Queen Mary and the future Governor general of Canada, is going on foreign service.

KITCHENER GRATEFUL.
Frederick E. Smith, the Unionist member of Parliament, who is acting as director of the official press bureau of the British War Office and Admiralty, issued the following statement to the English newspapers last night:

"Field Marshal Earl Kitchener wishes to add that he and the country are under the greatest obligation to the British press for the loyalty with which all reference to the movements of British expeditionary forces and their landing on the continent has been suppressed. "Earl Kitchener is well aware that much anxiety must have been caused to the English press by the knowledge that these matters were being freely discussed in the continental press and he wishes to assure the press of this country that nothing but his conviction of the military importance to this country of suppressing these movements would have led him to issue instructions which placed the press of this country under a temporary ban."

PARIS, Aug. 18.—The Black and Golden Eagle of the 132nd Lower Alsatian Infantry regiment of the German army which was captured by the French at Saint Blaise, Alsace, was hung today before the statue of Napoleon in the court of honor of the Invalides. A company of the Republican Guards escorted the silk standard, which was carried from the Presidential palace through the Avenue Marigny, the Avenue Nicholas VIII and across the bridge of Alexander III. A band played the Marseillaise and many spectators, as the flag appeared, removed their hats as a salute to the vanquished.

BATTLE-TORN GERMAN CRUISERS REACH PORT; SIDES BLOOD-STAINED

By Associated Press.
SHANGHAI, Aug. 18.—Two German cruisers have been disabled and brought to Hongkong. Confirmation of this fact was received here today. The deck works, the turrets and the barbettes of the two cruisers were demolished and their masts and funnels had been shot away. Their sides were stained with blood, which had run through the scuppers.

Two warships badly damaged and carrying many wounded were reported to have entered Hongkong harbor on August 13. Their identity was not made public, but at the time it was believed they were either the British cruisers Minotaur and Hampshire, or the French cruisers Duplex and Montcalm, which were reported to have had an engagement with the German cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau.

STRIKES MINE, SINKS.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A dispatch to the Central News from Rome says Austrian torpedo boat No. 19 struck a mine at the entrance of the harbor at Pola, the Austrian naval base in the Adriatic, and went down. Only one member of the crew was saved. A Paris dispatch to the Daily Telegraph says: "It is reported that an engagement between a British and a German warship has occurred off the Canary Islands. It is stated that a German cruiser has been sunk and also that a British cruiser has captured a German ship collecting munitions of war." The British official news bureau has no information concerning these reports.

SERVIANS ROUT THE ENEMY IN MOUNTAINS; CUT UP 3 REGIMENTS

By Associated Press.
NISH, Servia, Aug. 17, via London, August 18, 9:22 a. m.—The Austrians have been completely defeated near Sabac, 27 miles west of Belgrade, according to government sources. They fled toward Lesnitsa and Losnitsa pursued by Servians, who cut up three regiments and captured fourteen guns.

AUSTRIANS FLEE IN DISORDER.
LONDON, Aug. 18.—The Servian legation has received the following telegram from the Servian Premier, N. P. Pachitch: "The Austrians were completely routed in the mountains near Sabac and 15,000 annihilated. Fourteen guns were captured. The Austrians are fleeing in great disorder to re-cross the rivers Save and Drina, hotly pursued by our troops."

GERMANS RETREAT IN DISORDER.
PARIS, 3:02 p. m., Aug. 18.—An official announcement was given out at the War Office as follows: All day Monday we continued to progress in upper Alsace. The enemy's retreat from this side was in disorder. They abandoned everywhere their wounded and their stores.

"The French troops have occupied all the region to the west of Fenebrange, 32 miles inside the German frontier in Lorraine. Our troops poured through from the valley of the River Seille, of which a number of passes have been evacuated by the Germans. Our cavalry is at Chateau Salins."

"In all the actions of the past few days the Germans have sustained serious losses, our artillery having demoralizing and frightful effects on the enemy. "We have conquered the majority of the valleys of the Vosges upon the slope of Alsace, from which we will soon attain the plain."

"To the south of Saarburg, in Lorraine, forty miles east of Nancy, the enemy had organized in front of our strongly fortified position held by heavy artillery. "The Germans retreated precipitately and our cavalry pursued them."

"In general we have obtained in the preceding days successes redounding to the greatest honor of the officers and men engaged in the battles."

This telegram was received at the War Office from General Joseph Joffre, French commander-in-chief.

Major Charles A. Hedeekin is to direct the relief in France, assisted by Captains Coleman, Louis Brinton, Granville Sevier, Edward D. Ardery and Miller. All will go to Cherbourg on board the North Carolina and scatter through France under Major Hedeekin's orders. If it be found necessary they will be authorized to send Americans southward to Southampton, from where they will be sent to London. The Tennessee will return to Falmouth in about five days.

FEMINIST AIDS KNOWLAND

She Indorses Him for Senator Because of Record

Because of his activity on behalf of legislation calculated to improve the moral conditions of the country, stamp out commercial vice and abolish child labor and to benefit conditions surrounding women, Congressman Joseph Knowland has secured a valuable ally in Southern California in the person of Mrs. Jefferson Gibbs, vice-president of the Southern California Women's Republican Federation, who also served two terms as president of the Woman's Parliament of Southern California and who was vice-president of the National Congress of Mothers.

A special to THE TRIBUNE from Los Angeles this morning states that Mrs. Gibbs this morning started on a campaign of Southern California in the interests of Congressman Knowland's re-election. She said that she will visit every county south of Tehachas before the primaries. She is a woman who wields a commanding influence in that section, is an interesting speaker, well informed and is sure of a cordial reception wherever she goes, because she undoubtedly has the largest acquaintance of any woman in the lower portion of the state.

Knowland," said Mrs. Gibbs, this morning. "Because I believe in him. Women are intuitive to a great degree and my instinct tells me that Mr. Knowland has been a friend to women through the beneficial legislation he has helped to bring about and the women of California will help send him to the United States senate where he can add to the unimpeachable and brilliant record he now has."

Mrs. Gibbs will hold meetings in the larger towns and cities and will be occupied every day up to the evening before the primary. Congressman Knowland, who returned from the south Monday, received a telegram from the Young Men's Republican Club of Los Angeles, saying that organization had endorsed him for the senatorial nomination. Vernon Ross is president and John P. Coyle secretary of the organization.

Mr. Knowland is highly pleased with his success in the south and will speak in the balance of the primary campaign in the cities around the bay.

Captain Fredericks addressed an audience of 1200 persons at Santa Cruz last night, the meeting having been held in a large tent. The candidate was tendered a warm reception. Tonight he will speak in the Salinas opera house and tomorrow continue his trip south. His will wind up the campaign at Los Angeles Saturday night.

Tonight at Redmen's hall, the Elmhurst Republican Club will hold a meeting at which Mrs. Joseph R. Knowland, Dr. Derrick, Mrs. N. E. Davidson, candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, Ralph Hathorn, representing Francis Y. Keefe, and other candidates will speak. The hall is at Ninety-fourth avenue and Fourteenth street and a large attendance is expected.

Numerous candidates complain of the treatment received at the hands of those conducting certain "neighborhood meetings" in this city. It is said that invitations are sent candidates of all parties to appear and give their views for the benefit of the people assembled and that either before or after the gatherings, an assessment of from $2.50 to $5 is levied. Some of the candidates making the race are poor men and cannot well afford the expense of paying from $2.50 to $5.00 for the privilege of addressing meetings to which they have been invited and are quite serious in their objections to this sort of conduct.

The Annexed District Progressive League, of which Tony Mazzotta is president and Frank Schneppe secretary, has endorsed the candidacy of Hon. Frederick S. Stratton for the office of Judge of the Third District Court of Appeal. The resolution being as follows:

Whereas: Frederick S. Stratton is a candidate for nomination and election for the office of Judge of the Third District Court of Appeal and

Whereas: The word of Frederick S. Stratton during the twelve years he served as United States Collector of Customs, and the high position he has held among his fellow members of the profession during the 30 years he has practiced law stamp him as a man above all selfish for the position to which he aspires, and

Whereas: By his temperament, education and integrity he is fitted for said office, now, therefore be it

Resolved: That the Annexed District Progressive League unanimously and enthusiastically endorses Hon. Frederick S. Stratton for the position and that it will support on an active campaign for his nomination and election.

The last public meeting of the Woman's Democratic Club of Berkeley before the primary will be held on Thursday afternoon at the board of education room, Alston Way, at 2 o'clock. It is expected that the speakers will be Sydney M. Van Wyck, candidate for governor, Mrs. N. E. Davidson, candidate for state superintendent of public instruction, R. A. Berry, candidate for the assembly in the Forty-first assembly district, George C. Knowles, candidate for justice of the peace, and Fred Foss, candidate for county treasurer. The public is welcome.

Sheriff Frank Barnett, candidate for re-election, was last night endorsed by Local No. 5, Carpet Mechanics. Barnett is making several speeches nightly and will speak at the political dance at Central hall tomorrow evening. He will be one of the principal speakers Friday evening at the Eugene Stachler Club.

A candidate to succeed himself, is winding up his campaign this week as the primaries will determine the election to his office. Bacon has received a large number of endorsements among which are those of the Carmen's Union, the Swedish-American Alliance, Brotherhood of Teamsters and the Young Men's Progressive Club.

Bacon has lived in Alameda county during the last 10 years and is one of the most popular candidates in the field this year. From 1902 to 1908 he was county auditor. During the last four years he has been county recorder. He has established an enviable record and his administration as recorder has saved the county a large amount of money as well as increased the efficiency of the office.

Justice James G. Quinn of Oakland township, who is a candidate for re-election, spoke last night at the Durant school from which he graduated more than 25 years ago. Later he spoke at several additional meetings in Berkeley and Oakland. Quinn is impressing on his audience the fact that the primaries will be the final election for his office as he is opposed only by one candidate.

At an enthusiastic meeting held in Holts Hall, West Berkeley, an M. J. Kelly Club was formed and he was endorsed as the logical candidate for the office of county treasurer of Alameda county.

Thomas Dowd was chosen president; Charles Brewer, vice-president; C. E. Watt, secretary; and Charles Hadlen as treasurer. The following resolution was adopted: "Whereas, M. J. Kelly has faithfully and efficiently served the people of Alameda county as treasurer for over eight years and

"Whereas, not one good or sufficient reason has been advanced why he should not be re-elected to the same office, "Now, Therefore be it resolved, that we, a representative body of citizens of Alameda county, do hereby endorse M. J. Kelly for the office of county treasurer and he it further

"Resolved, that we will jointly and individually work for his election on the 25th day of August, and be it further

"Resolved, that we are opposed to the mean and vicious methods adopted by his opponent in bringing unfair, untrue and unwarranted charges upon the fair name of Alameda county in holding it up to the entire state and nation as a county being robbed and pilfered. In our opinion such tactics should be taken notice of on the 25th day of August, and the voters should punish, politically, every person or candidate responsible therefor. And be it further

"Resolved, if a man had been chosen from among the people, to aspire to the office of county treasurer, against M. J. Kelly, who had never been in politics before, the people would have some sense of honesty in the contention that there is a desire to rid this county of political bossism, assuming that bossism has been honestly shown. But when a man who has been so steeped in politics as his opponent comes into the political arena, the people are entitled to know the truth. It is time for the people to wake up before it is too late. We know that the people can question the propriety of his purposes just as they can question the propriety and honesty upon which to ride into office. His opponent is not in office on the pretext of "anti-bossism" so much as he is anxious to ride into office on the pretext of "anti-bossism" so that he, himself might become a boss.

"Resolved, that we admire the clean campaign M. J. Kelly is conducting and further that all the "mud throwing" comes from his opponent."

Philip M. Walsh, candidate for Congress to succeed Joseph R. Knowland, spoke last night at a large meeting in Alameda and tonight he will deliver the principal address at the Republican rally in Native Sons' hall, 1404 Park street, to be held under the auspices of the Alameda Women's Political League, of which Mrs. H. J. Platts is president. Beginning next Thursday Walsh will spend a few days in the rural precincts of the county. The Republican papers of Murray, Eden, Washington and Pleasanton townships indicate a strong leaning towards Walsh for congressman and it is his attitude, together with the growing favor in which Walsh is held by the rural voters, is an indication of how the primaries will go. A manager of Walsh declares that he will make a fine showing in the interior of the Sixth Congressional District.

At the regular meeting of the Young Republican Club of Alameda, held on Monday evening, August 17, the following endorsements were made: Congress, Geo. H. Derrick; Assembly, 38th district, W. W. Cribbins; sheriff, Frank Barnett; assessor, Charles Thomas; justice of the peace, Aaron Turner; coronor, Grant D. Miller.

The secretary reported the membership of the club was steadily increasing and indications were that a large Republican vote would be cast in the district at the coming primaries.

City Strongbox to Be Thrown Open to Gaze While Moving

The huge 4000-pound steel safe in the street department of the city hall annex is about to be disintegrated—temporarily. It is to be moved next Saturday to new City Hall. And in order to be moved it must lose its doors. Because doors, in this case, are the extra struts that break the elevator's back. The freight elevator in the building will not carry at one time a burden of 4000 pounds. The doors therefore, must not go down simultaneously with the body of the safe.

Harry Anderson, Commissioner of Public Works, is responsible. He has given orders that next Saturday, exactly at noon, the hour when, each Saturday, the doors of the annex close for the day, the street department down to the smallest stenographer, must move.

carried away in this flattering predilection. The safe spoke last night at an immense meeting in the Grant school and received a fine ovation.

Strength is being gained rapidly in the interior of the county by County Treasurer M. J. Kelly's candidacy for re-election. The county of Pleasanton, Edmon, Washington and Pleasanton townships just completed by one of his campaign managers assurances were given by the respective local political leaders that Kelly would poll the heaviest vote in those subdivisions of the county that he has ever received. Banking and business interests of Cities, Hayward, San Leandro, Fremont and Livermore are taking a lively interest in Kelly's fight because they believe that the county funds are in competent and honest hands and ought to remain there. During Kelly's incumbency as county treasurer he has always given personal attention to the business of the interior and one reason why the voters there are for him is his uniform courtesy towards them. The "anti-boss" fight which is being waged against Kelly in the rural districts has made no headway in the interior. State Senator Terrell of Oakland spoke on the subject of Kelly's fight last night at a large meeting of voters in Grant school. Fully 1100 persons were present and reference to the public career of Kelly created great enthusiasm.

William B. Bridge, present incumbent and candidate for supervisor of the second district, is indeed a busy man these days, attending the many meetings arranged by his numerous friends and enthusiastic supporters, who would do him honor and desire his re-election. A large assemblage greeted Mr. Bridge at his home last night. His address was being met so attentively and with such conclusion he was assured the support of all present.

Mr. Bridge wishes it understood that he is independent and is not the candidate of any political ring and that he stands on his record as a supervisor for the past eight years.

Mrs. Harry Spide and Mrs. A. K. Koppeled were the presiding officers at the meeting. The Bridge house meetings are becoming quite a feature of the campaign.

The Democratic "Write In" Club of Alameda county, which will place its candidates on the ballot by Spooner's methods, yesterday held a meeting at which it repudiated the candidacy of several who are attempting to secure Democratic nominations as well as their own.

Among the members banished were W. W. Murphy, for Secretary of State; T. Monahan and F. W. Richardson, for County Treasurer; U. S. Ween, for Attorney-General; John Mitchell, for Board of Equalization; and A. Morckensm, J. E. Ritter, F. W. Anderson and C. C. Young, for Assembly.

KEYSER IS AGAIN CHOSEN BY COUNCIL

President is Returned to Office by Majority of One Vote.

Final count of the votes in the council election and announcement of the newly elected officers of the organization was the principal business of the Central Labor Council last night. Vernon E. Keyser, who has acted as president of the council for the past term, was returned to office after a closely contested election in which he won over Edgar Hurley of the Electrical Workers by one vote. The count was 44 to 43.

William A. Spooner, secretary and business agent of the council, was unanimously reelected. B. F. Bowber was named first vice president and James Garlick second vice president. G. V. Manning, F. S. Clarke and R. J. Scott were elected delegates to the meeting of the State Federation of Labor, which is to convene in Stockton on October 5th.

The contest for the presidency was one of the hardest fought battles of labor in the central council has seen in some time. The votes were counted several times before the result was finally announced. Keyser had a strong backing in many unions, and Hurley was supported by the Electrical Workers and allied factions.

Preparations were announced last night for the Alameda county Labor day celebration, which is to be one of the most elaborate held in years. It will take place in Piedmont Park, and several novel features are under course of preparation. There will be games, burlesque races, dancing and other amusements. The concessions will not this year be operated by the union men, but concession rights will be sold by the Labor Council to different bidders. The celebration will take place on September 7.

A contribution was voted last night to assist in the Wheatland labor fight, and other contributions were also voted for different union labor fights. Several cases of firms signing union labor agreements were reported by the executive committee.

COMMISSION TO END. SEATTLE, Aug. 18.—Members of the Federal Industrial Relations Commission expected to close their session here with today's hearings. Examination of the witnesses regarding Chinese smuggling cases was continued in executive session.

Knowland's Election as Senator Certain

That Congressman Joseph R. Knowland will be nominated by the Republicans of California for United States Senator at the primary election one week from today by a majority decisive in character is now an established fact. Reports from all over the state show that Mr. Knowland has been making immense gains in every section. From northern line to the Mexican border and from the mountains to the sea coast, sentiment has crystallized in his favor to an extent that there is no probability of making an error in prediction. Wherever Mr. Knowland has appeared the spontaneous tenders of support from men and women have been so numerous as to indicate an overwhelming expression in his favor, and in the remote localities, situated off the direct lines of travel, the country press tells of the great advances he has made and of the unanimity of his party for his selection.

This condition of affairs was not altogether unexpected, for the record of his public service, rendered not only to his own state, but the nation at large as well, is so replete in its fullness, so marked in the ability displayed in achieving it, that no commonwealth in all the sisterhood would hesitate in promoting to a higher sphere of usefulness a man with as many notable legislative victories to his credit as has Joseph R. Knowland.

Californians recognize the commanding abilities of Mr. Knowland; the nation at large recognizes him. He is known from one coast to the other as the man whom the great Republican party selected to lead the fight against repeal of the no tolls clause for coastwise shipping in the Panama canal act. In the face of a majority so vast in its character that at no time from the beginning of the battle was there any doubt of the struggle; with the President of the United States and all the forces at his command arrayed against him, this Californian, representing the virility, the ability, the statesmanship and the desire to uphold American commerce shown by the Republican party from its foundation, was chosen as captain of the forces, and under his guidance and inspired by his utterances his own political organization stood manfully out against the iniquitous measure, and so forcibly were the arguments presented under the direction of this son of the Golden State, that the two great leaders of the opposition, Champ Clark and Oscar Underwood, yielded to them and abandoned their own party on the final vote.

It is no discredit to Joseph R. Knowland that the no tolls clause was defeated; he stands a real victor in spite of the fact that the President forced the passage of the repeal against the wishes of the people of the United States, and to Joseph R. Knowland will be given the credit for having furnished, during the memorable discussion, the arguments that will lead to the overthrow of the Democratic party in November next and two years hence.

Californians recall this young man when he first entered the Assembly, and during his service as a Senator in the State Legislature. They have watched him during his career of ten years in the Lower House of Congress and have noted that he has been true to every trust. They have seen him fight for the improvements of the harbors of San Diego and Los Angeles; they have noted his efforts on behalf of the San Francisco Mint and the Panama-Pacific Fair, and the bay of San Francisco; they have watched him battle for betterments in Humboldt county to the end that the lumber interests might be given the facilities necessary for increased trade on the ocean; they have noted with care his work on behalf of the navy yard at Mare Island and the energy displayed for the bettering of conditions in the great San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys and the inland waterways. They have seen him ever standing for the protection of American industries and the guarding of the industries of the state that claims him as a favored son, and have noted also that during the time he has been laboring for the material prosperity of state and country he has also ever been on the side of the uplift. He worked for the eradication of the white slave traffic and the bill passed; he worked for the abolishment of child labor in the territory governed by the national government and that passed; he has been a consistent advocate of moral legislation ever since the day he first assumed office as a senator.

Representing the Sixth Congressional District of California, and ever loyal to its interests, Mr. Knowland has, at the same time been a Congressman for all California and for all the United States. The limit of his activities has not been prescribed by the bounds of Alameda county, he has been a Congressman for everyone. And no man or woman in this state or any other can place their finger on a single act on his part, either in private or official life, that has not been correct in every detail.

With such a record to commend him, there is little wonder that California proposes nominating Joseph R. Knowland for United States Senator next Tuesday and electing him at the November election. He has earned his promotion and in an enlarged sphere of usefulness will achieve even greater distinction and the people of this state know it.

Joseph R. Knowland will be nominated Tuesday next by a decisive majority and elected at the general election by the largest majority given any man on the Republican ticket, which will be elected from top to bottom. In making the race for this office he accepted a call by his party, and the people of California and his party and the people will voice their confidence in him when the ballots are cast.

REPUBLICAN PROSPECTS ARE GROWING BRIGHTER.

Following the elections next fall the Progressive party will have gone out of business, and once more the political battles of the nation will be fought by the Republicans and the Democrats. Like other organizations that have sprung up mushroom-like, the Progressive party is destined to peter out, and the only record it will leave behind it will be found in the fact that by its conduct it defeated the Republicans in the national election of 1912, when it placed the Democrats in control of the country, elected a governor in California, secured a few senators and a few congressmen from various states, made a lot of noise and accomplished little.

The signs of the times all point to the end of this party of so-called Progressivism and a return to the sane policies of constructive Republicanism, the protection of American industries, the opening of factories, the rehabilitation of the merchant marine and a general increase in prosperity all over the country.

Roosevelt, chief of Progressives, has read the handwriting on the wall and by his endorsement of an old-time Republican for governor of New York has shown an anxiety to re-align himself with the Grand Old Party, and we confidently predict that he will make an attempt to become a factor in the struggle in 1916.

In California the overwhelming registration of Republicans and the dropping of the Progressives to third place shows conclusively that the voters of this state are tired of the machine rule of Hiram Johnson and his allies and propose to place it back in the Republican column.

California is not alone in this determination. Kansas and Missouri show by the primary results that the Progressives are no longer a political factor in either, while their vote was so small in North Dakota they have proven a negligible quantity, not mustering enough votes to qualify them for a place on the ballot at the general election. In Massachusetts, Charles S. Bird, who has been more or less of a perpetual candidate for the Progressives during the time the organization has been in existence, has declined to make the race for governor and the breakdown is apparent.

With the Progressive party out of business, the vote of the Republican party will increase. While some Progressives were recruited from the ranks of the Democratic party, the great bulk were Republicans, who perceiving their mistakes, and realizing that all great reforms needed can be accomplished best by unity of action under the old banner, are now returning.

The Democratic party has not polled a majority of the votes of the nation since 1892. In the last election the total vote of Taft and Roosevelt was 1,300,000 more than for Wilson. But for the split in Republican ranks caused by the defection of those who followed the colonel to Armageddon to battle for the Lord, the country would now be under Republican rule and better fitted to cope with the problems and grasp the opportunities that now present themselves. The Democratic party has its usefulness; it exists for the purpose of coming into power occasionally in order to demonstrate to the people the things they have missed by giving it the reins of government. It is neither a radical nor conservative organization, positive in nothing and neutral in everything. It has not produced a statesman, with the exception of Cleveland, in two generations and its grasp of conditions is practically nil. It neither rewards its friends nor placates its enemies, just simply pugs along in the middle of the road, dodging missiles from each side until its brief term finished, it retires to obscurity again until the people, dissatisfied with fancied conditions, give it a new lease of life, whereupon it takes up the same old routine.

The Democratic majority in the lower house will be materially overthrown in 1916 and safe and sane Republicanism, with constructive policies, will once more prevail, and we predict that this time the lesson that it is folly to change and permit an impotent organization replace a virile one will be remembered by the American people for at least a half century.

PRICE OF PAPER IS GOING UP RAPIDLY.

Among other commodities that are rising in price, due to the general advance on all things that are necessary is paper. Paper of all grades has responded to conditions. News paper, without the hyphen, is going up rapidly, but the various grades of job papers are climbing with a celerity that is astonishing.

Cardboard and the best grades of book paper have advanced during the past two weeks at a rate that is worthy of note. The reasons are apparent, because this country gets a lot of material for the finest grades across the Atlantic.

Until conditions shall have adjusted themselves consumers and patrons of job offices may look for an advance in prices.

UNITED STATES' ISLANDS

According to a report recently received by the National Geographical Society the United States now owns exactly 5000 islands supporting a population of 10,000. The report further shows that the commerce of these islands exceeds $300,000,000, or more than that of the United States in any year prior to 1850. American ships annually carry 400,000,000 pounds of goods to and from them there is shipped to the United States 100,000 tons of goods from them and they take in exchange products of about equal value.

The feature of the report is the development of Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Alaska Islands. It is stated that Porto Rico came under American rule fifteen years ago there was but one school building on the island, while today there are 1200. There were 25,000 pupils enrolled in the first year of American administration now there are 175,000. Then there was but one good road of forty miles now there are about 1000 miles. Production of sugar has grown from 65,000 tons a year to 365,000. Foreign commerce was about $200,000,000 a year. "The Alaskan Islands and main land," says the report, "cost us $7,500,000, an expenditure that many believed to be unjustifiable, yet for many years the annual value of sealskins alone approximated the cost of the entire area. At present the value of the canned salmon sent us from Alaska in a single year is twice as much as the entire possession cost."—New York Times.

ROOT PREDICTS REPUBLICAN SUCCESS

He Scores Rival Parties in An Address Before N. Y. Convention

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Addressing the New York Republican state convention which met here today under the most favorable conditions of being without power to nominate candidates for office, since the new primary law calls for their selection by the voters of the party at the primary election on September 23, United States Senator Elihu Root, the temporary chairman of the convention, pointed out the to Republican success this fall. It is, as he noted, the first time in 15 years that the Republican party of the State comes to the election of its State government and its national representatives as the party of opposition both in the State and nation. The party was about to appear, he said, to the voters of the State not only for a judgment on the conduct of the government by the Democratic party at Albany, but also in

He charged that since the Democratic party took possession of the national government a year ago, a half century of progress by which they proposed to set free every American from the incubus of too great success by others, to reduce the cost of living and to give new life and prosperity to American production and commerce, had failed.

ATTACKS POLICIES.

He took up particularly the experiments with the tariff, which he asserted had been carried out in a spirit of hostility to American industry. He pointed out that "perhaps the time has now come when the American people are ready again to try the protective system upon its merits and to call for legislation inspired by a spirit of friendliness toward American industry." He believed no one could claim any reduction in the general cost of living as a result of the tariff for revenue only.

He likewise attacked the Democratic program in relation to the financial system and the control of trusts and corporations. He remarked that eight months had passed since the banking and currency act became law, and that the delay in putting this into operation, together with the proposed legislation against trusts and corporations had had an ill effect on the country. "The spirit of the dominant party," he said in dealing with these business problems, impressed the enterprise of the country "with a sense that the government is hostile."

He pointed to the $55,000,000 voted to build railroads in Alaska, and the $25,000,000 voted by the House for good roads as "the pride of schemes running up into the billions," for spending the money taken from rich states by taxation. His estimate of the Progressive movement he reflected as follows:

In this controversy with the Democratic party the Progressive movement has been alone. The threat of a third party, which alarmed so many Republicans two years ago and still vexed us one year ago, has practically disappeared. It is now plain that it never had any real substance apart from the powerful personality of Mr. Roosevelt.

At the coming state primaries the Republican voters are to elect candidates for twenty-four offices to be filled by the voters of the entire state: United States senator, judge of the Court of Appeals, governor, lieutenant-governor, secretary of state, comptroller, attorney-general, state treasurer, state engineer and surveyor, and fifteen delegates-at-large to the constitutional convention.

Under the conditions of the new primaries, Senator Root saw many pitfalls. He saw defects in the primary law, but urged upon the Republicans that it was their obvious duty to accept it for the present in good faith. The duties of the convention he said were to adopt a platform on which the Republican candidates chosen at the primaries might stand, to approve the proposal of the national committee of the party to make representation in the national convention conforming closely to the Republican vote in the several states; and to represent the Republican voters of the State in consultation about the policy to be followed by the party in selecting candidates so that the voters might act effectively at the primary election "with a common purpose to secure party success at the regular election."

DEFECTS IN LAW.

He foresaw an unfortunate result if in each place the Republicans were to vote at the primary. "As they naturally might, for residents of their own vicinity, or if the voters of one large place were to vote in that way, while the Republicans of the rest of the state divided among a great number of candidates.

"Our opponents will have no such trouble," he continued. "More than one-half of the normal Democratic vote of the State is cast in the City of New York and the great mass of these voters, following the directions of their local party organization will distribute the nomination as that organization directs. The voters in the Republican primary, scattered through sixty-two counties, unhelped, will follow nobody's direction, but will act according to his own judgment, and it will be necessary that they consider what will be the effect of their action in regard to the distribution of candidates."

For the chief officers, for which men widely known would be candidates, he saw less trouble over this geographical cohesion, but he believed it would be impossible for the voters to make a list of fifteen delegates-at-large to the constitutional convention properly distributed throughout the State without some previous understanding. He looked upon it as a duty of the convention to remedy this situation in part by drawing up recommendations, leaving the voters to accept as much or as little as they chose.

FERGUSON NOMINATED.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 18.—Harvey R. Ferguson, New Mexican, was nominated for Congress at the Democratic state convention held here yesterday.

ROOSEVELT TALKS OF WAGE PROBLEM

Scores Reactionaries in Opening Massachusetts Campaign.

BOSTON, Aug. 18.—"No compromise" was the slogan with which Colonel Theodore Roosevelt opened the political campaign in Massachusetts. He declared there should be no compromise with reactionaries in any form, while on the other hand, he would welcome those of the rank and file of other organizations who refused to follow the old leaders.

The men who were responsible for the Payne-Aldrich bill, he asserted, also are responsible for the present tariff. "Colored Roosevelt's" speech was to have been delivered at a Progressive rally and held meet at Fenway Park, but rain drove the crowd to shelter in the arena.

Speaking of what he termed the permanent problem of Massachusetts, Roosevelt said:

"This problem must be, so far as it concerns the great industries in which the immense majority of wage workers are engaged, to combine efficiency with the proper sharing of the rewards of that efficiency. There will be no reward for anybody, no adequate wage for the workman, no support service to the public, unless the business pays. A business run at a loss will have to shut its doors. No prosperity can be passed around until the prosperity exists. The main element in the success of any business must be efficiency, and the wage worker must do all in his power to contribute to this efficiency."

"But the wage worker has no efficiency adds to the productivity must have that added efficiency recognized in increased wages. The benefit must in part accrue to him exactly as it in part accrues to the man who furnished the capital, without which the business could not go on, and in part to the general public."

"In every business it must be recognized that there are these three interests; and each one of these interests must receive justice. Public opinion recognizes this fact, and government, which in this country is based on public opinion, must also recognize it and endeavor to secure its practical realization."

Day told the police the machine belongs to his father; that the parents of the girl objected to their marriage, and that they therefore ran away, planning to sell the machine and marry.

The Question Box

To the Sporting Editor: I would appreciate very much if you would publish in your valuable column a brief statement of the results of this year's baseball season. I am interested in the following items: (1) How many teams were in the National League, All-American League, American League, and Pacific Coast League, and how many were in the minor leagues. (2) How many teams were in each of the leagues at the end of each season. (3) Yours truly, GEORGE.

Ans.—Have nothing on Western! I have written for information you desire and will publish shortly.

To the Sporting Editor:

Has the National League query somewhere in your sporting columns tomorrow. What pitcher gets charged with the defeat in the game between the Athletics and the Pirates?

Pitcher A is knocked out of box by some team, and Pitcher B enters box with bases filled and 1 out with score 1-0. He hastily denounces the umpire and contends that Pitcher A gets the defeat. He is told that the bases filled and only 1 out and score 1-0.

Please answer question to J. D. Oakland, Cal.

Ans.—Pitcher A is charged with defeat. Rule of scorers is that a pitcher is responsible for all men on base when he enters the box. He could be charged with the defeat if he had three runs ahead with no outs and he got three scored after he had pitched

VALLEJO GUN CLUB POPS BLUE ROCKS

Big Merchandise Shoot Proves
Event of Much Interest.

VALLEJO, Aug. 18.—The big merchandise shoot of the Vallejo Gun Club was an unequalled success, practically every member of the club trying his skill at the traps and scores of spectators being present to witness the sport.

In the 25-bird event A. G. Flickinger, F. G. Leake, W. E. Saxton, R. Standish, P. G. Magistrali and W. L. King tied for 21 birds each. The other runners made many efforts to break the tie, but it was impossible to do so and they finished the day with 21 birds out of a possible 25 in this event.

In the first team shoot Flickinger's aggregation lost to Saxton's team was a 10-bird event among the best. Flickinger, with a clean string, but his team-mates fell down and victory went to the Saxtons in this event.

The merchandise shoot, which was the main event of the day, proved highly interesting. It was a 25-bird shoot and the highest runners were as follows:

placed in this event and some of them made a most creditable showing against the crack shots of the club. In the 5-bird shoot of Flickinger broke every bird, while Leake lost one difficult shot. As a result, Flickinger won the event.

Another special was a 20-bird shoot, high guns to enjoy the sport at the expense of the low guns. One squad made the following scores: Saxton 12, Flickinger 10, Leake 9, Wicks 13 and Karetke 7. In this event another tie resulted among the high men and in the 5-bird shoot of Leake outscored his opponent.

Flickinger made the best longest string score of the day, while Saxton took second honors in that line.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Grace Anderson, a pretty dance hall girl employed in the All Nations Cafe, 45 Pacific street, is in a cell at the city prison today as the result of an attack she made early this morning on Louis Adams, floor manager in the resort.

Adams and Miss Anderson had a spat while both were tripping the light fantastic for the amusement of a crowd of patrons. The startled onlookers, who expected to be entertained with the Tango and the Maxixe, with a sprinkling of Bunny Hug and Turkey Trot, were startled to see a flash of steel, as Miss Anderson, drawing away from her partner, thrust him across the left cheek. Police-men Tracy and Bickel of the Barbary Coast squad, burst in upon an excited scene before damage could be done and Adams was taken to the hospital. The Anderson girl is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

FIGHTS OFF NEGRO WHO TRIES TO HOLD HER UP

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—At 2:30 p. m. today a woman who attempted to hold her up at 2:30 this morning, Miss Jeanette De Potter, who lives at the Hotel Hotel, 100 California street, fought off an assailant, returning blow for blow, until her cries brought aid. The culprit escaped.

De Potter was just about to enter her room when the man came up from behind her, struck her in the back with his fist and demanded a catch which she was carrying. Instead of handing it to him she struck him with it and when he seized her by the arm she resisted in the face, all the while screaming for help.

De Potter, proprietor of the Hotel, heard the cries and, hurrying out, pursued the man who fled west on California street and not away.

REFUSES TO TELL HOW HE CAME BY INJURIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—With his shoulder dislocated, several of his ribs broken and his face badly battered, Frank Bicknell, of the Hotel Berg, proprietor of a pool room on Third street, was taken to the Park Hospital this morning. He refused to tell the attending surgeon how he came by his injuries and the police began an investigation. Several of his friends who called to see him declared that he had merely been engaged in a boxing match and had been spotted by his opponent. The police doubt this explanation as it would be hardly possible for Bicknell to have received all of the injuries in such a manner. He was transferred to the Central Emergency Hospital and a careful inquiry is being instituted by the detective department.

ORDER OF HIBERNIANS IN BUSINESS SESSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Delegates to the forty-first convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the Ladies' Auxiliary of California, met today at Hibernian hall, to arrange the business for the ensuing year, and this evening they will entertain at a ball given at the Auditorium, Page and Fillmore streets.

Yesterday morning the delegates met at Hibernian hall, to hear Mayor Rolph make an address of welcome. He was detained at Santa Cruz and sent word that he hoped to return today, and would come the delegates in the afternoon. They made a trip around the bay, stopping at Mare Island and the exposition grounds.

HAYWARD ODD FELLOWS HEAR GRAND MASTER

HAYWARD, Aug. 18.—Time is money. Every second tick of the clock means $15 paid out for the upkeep of Odd Fellows' homes and institutions throughout the United States. On this computation according to Grand Master Johnson of San Diego, who was the guest of honor of Hayward Odd Fellows last night, over $5,000,000 was paid out by the Odd Fellows of the nation in this manner.

Swanmore Lodge No. 123 of Odd Fellows of this city were hosts to the members of the Redwood Lodge in Odd Fellows' hall last night on the occasion of the visit of Grand Master Johnson, who was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson. The illustrated talk by the grand master of the Odd Fellows' national institutions was a feature of the evening. Noble Grand Lester Perry presided over the gathering, assembled under the auspices of the Hayward lodge.

NEW MOVIE THEATER NEARING COMPLETION

With the last coat of paint applied, the chairs all set in place and the final adjustments made on the ventilating system at the new Franklin theater at Franklin and Fifteenth streets, all that remains is the laying of the carpet, hanging of the draperies and the final tuning and voicing of the pipe organ, before the doors are thrown open to the public the last part of next week.

All of the electrical fixtures are in place and the illumination, both interior and exterior, has a striking effect. One of the most unique features of the lighting scheme is the dim effect while the pictures are being shown. Light from small lamps colored green is reflected in the ceiling by the chandeliers and from there reflected to the auditorium below giving an effect not far different from moonlight.

BOYS STABBED DURING STREET ALTERCATION

Virginia Serfas, 16 years of age, 220 Chester street, and Albert Mendonca, 17 years of age, 346 Hanley street, were stabbed last night on their way home from the Prescott night school after an altercation with Joe Mirizzi, 20 years of age. Mirizzi alleges that the two had called him names and had then thrown watermelon rinds at him. The two boys stated that he had cut them with a clasp knife. They were taken to the Receiving Hospital, where flesh wounds that will not prove serious were dressed. Inspectors Green and Gallagher are investigating the case and may cause the arrest of Mirizzi.

MOUNTAIN LION STOPS WOMEN ON LONE ROAD

GRASS VALLEY, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Fleming and daughter, who reside on the McCourtney road, a short distance below this city, had a thrilling experience with a California mountain lion while returning home. The lion made its appearance from the heavy brush on the side of the road, and the two horses of Mrs. Fleming became frantic. Being completely unnerved at the sight of the lion, and also trying to keep the team from running away, proved a terrible strain on the two women. After keeping ahead of the team for some distance, the lion disappeared in the brush.

Yesterday many hunters and people residing in that vicinity were scouring the country, hoping to encounter the big cat.

MISS ELVORA EARL, WHO HAS SPENT THE SUMMER AT BEN LOMOND. —Scharz photo.

THE Marshall Darrauchs seem to have accomplished a salon in San Francisco. There have been so many attempts. Two or three seasons ago a determined group of clever women called themselves "The Salon," but it was no use. The elusive spirit of a salon refused to be forcibly invoked, so to speak, and the meetings were discontinued. Other efforts have degenerated into ordinary receptions or teas, especially ordinary. But a salon seems to have naturally formed itself about the Marshall Darrauchs.

They are at home Sunday afternoons at their home on Russian Hill, and celebrities of the hour are always gathered there. Environment may have a little to do with the "atmosphere." The Darrauchs' apartment is a sort of Teufelsdröckh's watch tower overlooking the bay and Golden Gate, and the city below. Kathleen Thompson Norris used to live there, and just across the way is the Carmelite convent that was once the Robert Louis Stevenson house. Swiftwater Hill built the place next door. But principally it is generated by the guests and the informal hospitality of the hosts. Last Sunday there were half a hundred individually interesting people drinking tea or punch, as the case may have been, at the Darrauchs.

There was Robert Anken, here from New York for the Roseman junkies, one of the California sculptors who has won genuine distinction abroad and a member of the National Academy of Design. Any number of famous people have not been for him, from William Taft to William McKim, and Henry Arthur Jones, the London playwright. The Darrauchs know him as the sculptor of the Dewey monument in Union Square. Then there were Captain and Mrs. Louis Basch, U. S. A. She was Bertha Runkle, who wrote "Helmets of Navarre." The Frank Pixleys of Prince of Pilsen fame exchanged reminiscences of the Monterey summer with Isabel Perry and Evelyn McCormick. Harry Jones, once of Oakland, but now importantly of London, where he sings in concert, and home on a visit. Dr. Gerard, noted surgeon of the Carnegie foundation, lent distinction of his presence, and there were Frank Unger, Bohemian cosmopolitan and dilettante; Humphrey Stewart, Earl Cummings, Captain Harry Howland, and society women, writers, editors, clubmen and artists for superlatives in the scene. It was genuinely a salon.

MISS HIGGINS' TEA.
The tea to be given Thursday afternoon by Miss Alberta Higgins in honor of her cousin, Miss Carmen Ghirardelli, will be one of the brilliant affairs of the fall season. About 200 guests will be entertained at the Higgins home in Piedmont and many regretful faravells will be said. The attractive guest of honor, who will leave this month to spend the winter in Florida, Miss Thomas Watson Cushing, who with Mr. Cushing is going East with her daughter, will be in the receiving party, that will also include Mrs. A. H. Higgins, Mrs. Henry H. Bestman, Mrs. Walter De March, Mrs. John McGowan, Mrs. George Vernon Dismore, Mrs. Ernest Mendelhall, Mrs. John Keating, Mrs. Frederick Nelson, Mrs. Cora and Miss Katherine Ghirardelli, Miss Alfreda Edoli, Miss Alfreda Wright, Miss Helen Neal, Miss Elva Ghirardelli and Miss Jeanette Ghirardelli.

CAPWELLS RETURN.
Mrs. Harris Capwell and her two attractive daughters, Miss Phyllis and Miss Dorothy Capwell, returned today to their home in Kelton Court after a summer outing of several months. They spent the early part of the season at Coronado, where the Capwells girls were great belles, and during July and August were at their summer home in Brookdale, where they entertained at a number of delightful house parties.

NOVEMBER WEDDING.
Miss Madeline Carter, whose engagement to Nathan Taylor Bradford was announced last week, is planning a pretty home wedding to take place in November. The ceremony and reception for a limited number of guests will take place at the attractive residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry von Carter in Claremont Park. IS MAN TRULY HUMBLE AT SEA?

(By Lillian Russell)

Copyright, 1914, by LILLIAN RUSSELL.

BATHING resorts present a conglomerate mass of humanity. There you may see some of the most aristocratic of the citizens mingling with the most illiterate and vulgar. There is no class distinction when they are in their bathing suits.

You will see the most prudish women, women who would die before exposing their limbs in a bathing room, walk about in short clinging bathing suits which not only expose their lower limbs, but which to the gaze of the onlooker.

There seems to be no apparent modesty in the makeup. Men seem to parade themselves about with just as little in the way of bathing suits as the law allows. It is astonishing to see how they disregard appearances. They walk about the streets uncovered as completely as though they were about to do some wonderful athletic feat, which feat generally ends in a gentle dip in the sea—a roll on the sand and then a parade home again.

On the beach there is absolutely no conventionalities—women and men dance to music in wet clinging bathing suits, lie about on the sand together in the most familiar manner, and walk back to their domiciles arm in arm. Then, when their clothes are changed for the continental dress of house or office, all is changed. Their good manners and modesty return to them and they are once more deferential and respectful to one another.

The beauty who would not enter a dressing room without having her hair coiffured in the latest fashion has no hesitancy walking through the public streets from wet hair hanging over her shoulders.

There is no question but the water exerts a wonderful power over people. They may gaze upon its ever-changing aspect, they may play about in it and before it, but they must bow down to its mightiness. That must then be the psychology of the bathing suit—the unimportance of humanity in the presence of the ocean.

Answers to Queries.

H. A.—Massage given incorrectly. It is wrong to massage at all. Before beginning to massage the face wash it in warm water, softened with a little oatmeal. This is to soften and prepare it for the cream, so that the best results may be obtained. Dry the skin gently and smear the cream over the entire face and throat, then with the tips of the fingers work it carefully into the skin, rubbing gently into a circular motion from the chin toward the cheek bone and from the corners of the mouth toward the ears. The object of massage is to stimulate the muscles and to keep them in their proper position and prevent sagging. Never rub, no matter how lightly, the skin around the eyes, as this would tend to stretch it. Smear a little cream under the tips of the fingers and lightly tap it, taking care to avoid the eye itself. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a formula for an excellent skin food for massaging.

W. T. AND A. H.—It is not advisable to wear the hair one way for such a long period. Why don't you try parting your hair on the side or in the middle? There are many pretty ways of dressing the hair. A little cream under the tips of the fingers and lightly tap it, taking care to avoid the eye itself. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you a formula for an excellent skin food for massaging.

MRS. D. M.—I am sorry, but I cannot give you a formula for a liquid cleansing cream. If you care for the formula for a liquid cleansing cream in a paste form I shall gladly send it to you upon receipt of a stamped, addressed envelope.

MILDRED F.—Do not use dry shampoo too often. They close the pores of the scalp and cause dandruff and make the hair fall. Once in a while will not harm the hair. Here is a good formula: Take equal parts of orris root and cornmeal. Mix thoroughly. Rub it through the hair into the scalp. Allow it to remain on over night, then brush out. If your hair is oily, shampoo it about every two weeks. Don't use the dry shampoo unless you cannot shampoo your hair.

LORINA—A girl of 14 should wear her hair down her back in curls tied with a bow at the top, or in a twist down the back. Nothing is prettier than to see a young girl with her hair down her back. You do not have to have a great deal of hair to wear it in this manner. The length of your dresses should depend upon your size. If you are large for your age they should be just a few inches above your shoe tops.

H. H.—Sometimes flushing is due to indigestion, sometimes to tight clothing. Pay particular attention to the neck, waist and feet, which should not be constricted. Exercise in the open air. A cold sponge each morning is often helpful. Bath the face with an astringent lotion. I shall be glad to send you the formula for a lotion if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

MRS. J. M. L.—I am sorry, but I cannot give you a formula for perfume. There are many good ones on the market, and it is not necessary to buy a cheap one. Perfume should always be of a good quality. It is only necessary to use a drop or two of a good perfume and the odor will be sweet and lasting.

WOMEN TO FIGHT? NO! WHAT'S USE? FRANCE NEEDS SAILORS, THEY REPLY

FIGHT? NO! WOMEN ARE MORE USE THAN THAT! Mlle. Desiree (left) and Mlle. Renee Balthea, who are going to operate food ships for France.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—"A woman can't fight, and the army's going to be overstocked with nurses. We're going to be sailors!"

So declare Mlle. Desiree and Mlle. Renee Balthea, both famed as among Paris' most beautiful women. They have applied for papers as navigators, citing their yachting experiences as good and sufficient evidence of skill—and it is very probable that they will get the papers. There seems to be no legal objection. They declare that they will then commission two yachts, and will aid in bringing food to the armies. They will equip small boats, they declare, that they can handle themselves. Both women are noted in yachting circles. Mlle. Desiree is further known as one of the best dressed actresses in France, and Mlle. Balthea is one of the leading stars at the Theatre Femina in Paris.

MRS. BROAD IS AFTER LEGAL SEPARATION.
SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 18.—Suit for divorce has been filed by Mrs. Harriet F. Broad, of Sausalito, against Alfred F. Broad, prominent clubman and head of the San Francisco Photo Engraving Company. The complaint, which was filed here by John O'Garra of the San Francisco firm of O'Garra & De Martini, alleges extreme cruelty, and charges Broad with undue intemperance with the wife of a neighbor in Sausalito.

The Broades were married in Cornwall, England, in 1892, and have a married daughter now residing in Sausalito. According to the complaint, Broad left his wife shortly after their marriage and came here to enter business. Mrs. Broad did not join him until 1910, since which time, she alleges, he has treated her with coldness and has humiliated her by his actions with other women, and on several occasions has struck her and knocked her down when she protested against such actions.

Mrs. Broad alleges several thousand dollars' worth of community property and asks for maintenance. The preliminary hearing of the case will take place in Judge Zook's court on August 28.

DYING WOMAN SHOTS BANDIT: HE IS CAUGHT.
SACRAMENTO, Aug. 18.—Mrs. Clifford Holcroft lost her life last night in a heroic battle with a young bandit in the downtown business section of the city. Mortally wounded, Mrs. Holcroft fired a shot at the highwayman, hitting him in the left temple. The robber was found lying in the street a few minutes after the duel.

The bandit, Earl Loomis, 19 years old, entered the ice cream parlor run by Holcroft and her wife, Seventeenth street, between J and K streets, late last night. As he closed the door behind him Loomis drew a revolver and shouted: "Hands up!"

Holcroft and Earl Peterson, a boy who was talking to Holcroft, obeyed the command. Mrs. Holcroft did not. She reached under the counter and drew out a revolver. Before she had time to fire, Loomis had shot her, wounding her fatally. The woman fired at the robber and fell dead. The bullet of the young bandit had penetrated her left breast right above the heart.

Mrs. Holcroft's bullet struck Loomis in the left temple. He ran out of the store, and was found lying in front of the Haven apartment, four blocks away from the Holcroft store. At first he said he had been held up and wounded by a highwayman.

Cleveland, Ohio—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. SAN FRANCISCO WILL NOT FIGHT OAKLAND

BUSINESS MEN DECLARE FOR PEACE AND PROGRESS

Los Angeles Joins Hands With Both Cities and Annexation Battle Is at an End

Oakland and San Francisco will not go to battle over the proposition as to whether San Francisco will annex Oakland. Men of wisdom have stepped into the breach and stopped the contest, which would result only in disaster to both San Francisco and Oakland.

The leading business men of San Francisco and the board of supervisors of the city across the bay have taken a manly view of the situation, and, after reviewing the conditions, have magnanimously extended the olive branch to the people of Oakland and have asked that the two cities, Oakland and San Francisco, work in harmony in their efforts to build up great commonwealths on the bay of San Francisco.

Oakland and Alameda county will not, therefore, have to fight for existence at the coming election in November. At a meeting in San Francisco yesterday, at which Judge A. L. Stevens and others represented Los Angeles and members of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco attended, it was decided that the San Francisco amendment, which would permit that city to attempt to acquire Oakland territory, be abandoned, and that the Oakland amendment, which establishes the individuality of Oakland, be supported both by San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles and San Francisco people have made this agreement very definite, and the expected war between the east bay cities is thereby at an end.

EXPLICIT IN TERMS.

The San Francisco Chronicle this morning gives the facts as follows: Acting on representations made by the exposition company, the Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Supervisors yesterday rescinded a former resolution and withdrew its support from the San Francisco constitutional amendment that fixes the minimum population of consolidated cities and counties at 15,000, and permits the annexation of any contiguous territory. At the same time the board adopted a new resolution giving its approval and support to the Oakland constitutional amendment which places the minimum of population at 9,000 and which will prevent San Francisco from annexing any Alameda county territory.

Supervisor Andrew Gallagher, Thomas Jennings and Charles A. Nelson vigorously opposed the sudden change of policy, but the other nine Supervisors present heeded the pleas for intercity harmony, and the further assurance that if San Francisco continued to fight Oakland's proposed measure, Alameda county would withdraw its pledge of $1,000,000 to the Exposition.

WORDING USED.

The resolution reads as follows: "Whereas, Representations have been made to the Board of Supervisors by the Panama-Pacific Exposition management and by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce that the interests of the Panama-Pacific Exposition will be furthered by the elimination of intercity strife in relation to the two pending city and county consolidation constitutional amendments to be voted upon by the people at the coming election in November; and whereas, official representatives of the city of Los Angeles have joined in such recommendation and request the support of this Board to the constitutional amendment which fixes the minimum population for consolidated cities and counties at 15,000 and which places certain restrictions upon the annexation of territory in such consolidations; and whereas, it appears that the advocacy and support of the last referred to RENEW HAZING ON CAMPUS OF U. C.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Aug. 18.—On the heels of the ultimatum issued yesterday against the freshmen by the sophomores, the first pitched battle has been fought between the two classes, and this in spite of many faculty frowns and possible action by the students' affairs committee. Commenced yesterday afternoon, the struggle continued this morning, and as a result many a freshman found it necessary to go home for dry clothing and to catch his breath.

The conflict was fought chiefly upon the historic battlefield about the fountain pond at the upper end of the campus, and the fact that the water therein was rather worse than stale did not deter the second year men from giving their rivals numerous and sundry duckings.

What freshmen could be rounded up yesterday afternoon were marched in lock-step about the upper portion of the campus and halted by the pond. Others were taken over a similar course this morning. Foot races were magnanimously permitted the lower classmen by their traditional rivals, and the more fleet-footed of the "dubies" escaped untouched. Those who lost to their soph-

DISAPPEARS ON WAY TO HER DOCTOR

Search is being made by H. R. Glasgow of 640 Twelfth street for his wife, who disappeared mysteriously yesterday after leaving her home in Oakland to go to the office of her physician in San Francisco.

She was to meet her husband and go to the theater last night, but failed to do so and when he returned home last night he found the theater tickets on the table and discovered that she had not been home since early in the morning.

After reporting the case to the San Francisco and Oakland police, Glasgow started on a round of his friends and relatives to find out whether any of them had seen his wife.

He discovered this morning that she had not been to the office of her physician and no trace of the woman since yesterday morning at 9 o'clock has been found by either Glasgow or the police.

FOLLOWS HIM AWAY.

Glasgow, who is an employee of a men's furnishings company at Twelfth and Washington streets, left home yesterday morning shortly before 8 o'clock. Neighbors declare that Mrs. Glasgow left the house shortly afterward.

Glasgow informed the police that there had been no trouble in his family, and that he could give no reason why his wife should leave home.

Mrs. Glasgow has been suffering for some time from nervous trouble, and it is feared that some mishap may have befallen her. Glasgow visited several hospitals and investigated all reports of accidents in San Francisco and Oakland.

Mrs. Glasgow is described as 35 years of age, 5 feet 3 inches in height, weighing 125 pounds. Her hair was dark brown and she had blue eyes, with a medium complexion. When last seen she wore a heavy brown coat and white felt hat.

WOUNDS WIFE, GETS THIRTY DAYS

HAYWARD, Aug. 18.—George Wolrath, haled before the police court here, after an adventure with a wife and a revolver, pleaded guilty to:

Firing two shots at his wife, as she lay sleeping in bed; Inflicting a severe wound on her head by revolver bullet; Leaping from window to escape capture, and falling 30 feet; Arousing the town.

And, as punishment, he was given an option of the following: Thirty days.

Offense charged: Firing off a revolver in the Hayward city limits.

The man could have been charged with assault with a deadly weapon, had Mrs. Wolrath agreed to testify;—but she didn't agree. In fact, she disappeared, shortly after the shooting, and her husband, when he came out of the hospital after his fall, pleaded guilty to the minor charge and for the time being ended the matter. An effort to find the wife, however, is being made, an effort will be made to have her testify to the more serious charge.

Wolrath, who appeared in court yesterday with his head swathed in bandages, had fallen thirty feet from the balcony of a Hayward hotel in escaping from his room after the shooting. He was captured by Deputy Sheriff Joe Soares.

The shooting, according to the story told in court, occurred in the Hayward Hotel on Saturday night. Wolrath, who is an employee of a local construction company, came home after an evening spent in a saloon, and fired twice at his wife. The second bullet grazed the woman's head. She screamed and fled. Hotel guests, awakened by the shooting, gave chase to Wolrath, who jumped through a window.

Since then the woman disappeared, and without her evidence the court could only charge the minor offense.

MADAME STOPPANI IN SWITZERLAND

Berkeley Woman Reassures Her Relatives in Cablegram.

BERKELEY, Aug. 18.—Worry felt here for the safety of Madame Charles F. Stoppani, formerly Miss Evelyn Henry of this city, has been dispelled by the receipt of a cablegram from Zermatt, Switzerland, telling her relatives that she is well and happy. Madame Stoppani is the daughter of Mrs. W. W. Henry of 1809 Euclid avenue and a sister of Mrs. George Henry of 1809 Euclid avenue.

Madame Stoppani has resided for the past two years in Paris since her separation from her first husband. She has been devoting her time to musical studies. She was known to be traveling somewhere on the continent this summer, and deep anxiety was felt for her safety. Various efforts to reach her failed, but now has come a brief cablegram reassuring her family and friends.

Everything is all right, read the cable message.

Next year it is expected Madame Stoppani will return to Berkeley for an extended stay.

INCREASED LIGHTS ON BERKELEY HIGHWAYS

BERKELEY, Aug. 18.—The city council this morning took the first step in a program for developing general lighting system for this city when it ordered the establishment of eighty gasoliers on Grove street, from Berkeley way to Woolsey street. They are to be of 100 candle power and ornamental design similar to those on the Lake Merritt boulevard in Oakland.

The protests against the opening of Jones street and of Hopkins street were considered by the council but delayed for settlement to a future meeting. An ordinance against the use of Maxim lanterns was adopted. Communication was received from City Treasurer E. W. Gore, in which he explained the workings of his office, and denied the claim recently made to the council by E. F. Eddy, a former employee, to the effect that there was much time lost therein. The report was made as required by Commissioner John A. Wilson and was filed by the council.

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

A Physician's Advice.

"I'd certainly give almost anything to be able to put a few pounds more on my frame," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite the fact that the body is a victim of malnutrition. This condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

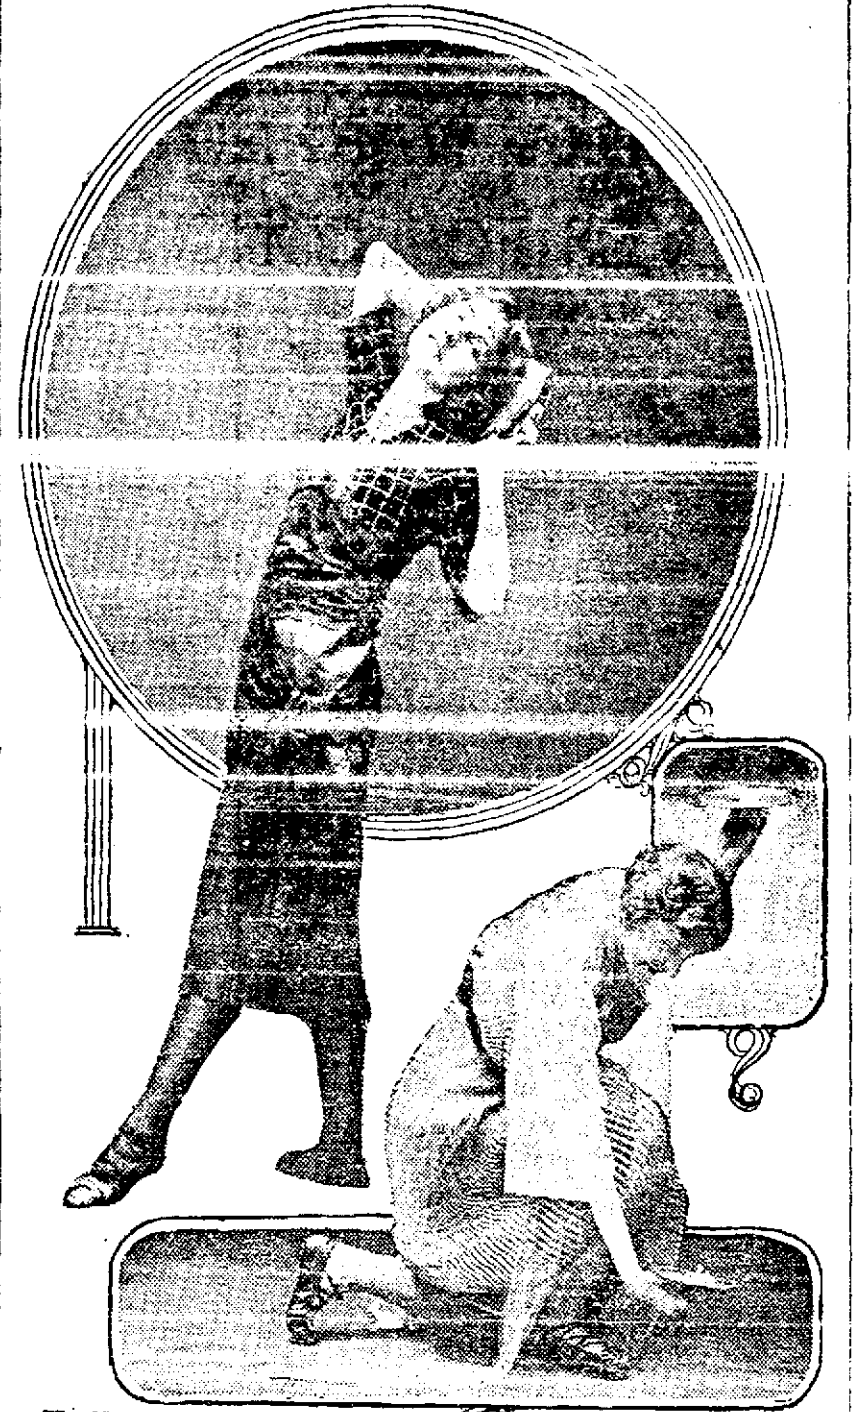

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal amount of nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has planned by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of the best strength-giving fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood, and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely safe.

Good Bros. drug stores and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable fat-producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

MISS KATHERINE BIRDSALL, WHOSE "SPANISH MUSICAL ATHLETICS" HAVE SUPPLANTED THE CLASSIC DANCES OF Mlle. La Gat at the University. Miss Birdsall is shown in two poses of her novel dances.

It is called Spanish Musical Athletics, and already has achieved an enormous vogue in this city. Local society is acclaiming Miss Katherine Birdsall, one of its fair members, as the cleverest exponent of the new art. METHODS OF SHOWING GOODS SUGGESTION MAY CLOSE SALE

Illustrating that having a finer customer is often due to the manner in which goods are displayed. When a customer is obviously undecided between two or more articles, was until you note a slight preference toward one, then quickly take it up and away from the others, concentrating the attention upon that one offering a suggestive statement which will aid that preference.

In the first illustration the customer has said: "I don't know which one I want?" To this the salesman replied, "You will be satisfied with either one once you have bought it." This is wrong because it leaves the customer undecided.

The second picture shows where the salesman, realizing that the customer was about to become undecided, watched for a momentary preference for one suit, and then quickly added this preference with a suggestive statement:

"This suit is very serviceable and will look well on you." He takes it away from the others as he says this, and thus keeps the customer from being fussy. If you have many fussy customers, watch and see if this is not the reason for it. Careful observation has shown this to be the case. (Illustrations for this lesson are taken in Roos Bros. Heesman's store.)

TEAMSTER IS FATALLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY

RICHMOND, Aug. 18.—Thomas J. Healey, employed as a teamster at the Standard Oil Company, was probably fatally injured yesterday forenoon when his team ran away throwing him out and crushing him severely. His back was broken and several ribs. He also suffered a severe laceration of the scalp and bruises. He was taken to Merritt Hospital in Oakland.

(By GEORGE M. WESSELS, Salesman-ship Expert.)

Editor's Note: The large number of inquiries concerning these lessons in Salesmanship which THE TRIBUNE is offering, shows the public is greatly interested in this new educational work. It is being conducted in Los Angeles, under Mr. Wesseles' direction. The first picture is the one on "Salesmanship" which Mr. Wesseles gave this morning at the Ad Club luncheon at the Forum. It caused much favorable comment. It is interesting to note that the sales force of every large store in Oakland will be present either tonight or tomorrow night at the Unitarian church, Fourteenth and Castro streets, to hear this interesting lecture.

In conducting classes for salespeople one of the questions that has been asked many times has been, "How am I going to handle the undecided or fussy customer?" After careful investigation we have been forced to conclude that in the majority of cases the answer is, "Don't let the customer get fussy."

Of course you will say that this is often easier said than done, but let us consider a case for a moment. You will note that it is largely a matter of the way that you display goods.

The pictures shown above illustrate exactly the same thing that occurred to me while buying a shirt the other day. The salesman showed me four shirts which resembled each other very much. I picked up first one and then another. I could not make up my mind which one to take. I picked up two. The salesman said, "Those two are both very pretty shirts." I looked at one hesitatingly for a moment. He said, "That one is very pretty, also. I put it down and looked at them all, saying, 'I don't know which one I want.' In reply he said, 'You will be satisfied with any one.'"

JUDGMENT NEEDED.

Then he kept still, having decided that I was a particularly fussy individual and the best way to handle me was to let me alone. Well, he waited about five minutes. Many times during that time I was inclined toward one shirt for a moment and only needed a little positive suggestion and action adding that slight preference to close the sale.

Had this salesman watched for a slight preference on my part toward one shirt when he saw the uncomfortable position I was in, taken that shirt up and in a positive manner said "This shirt will look particularly well with that suit," taking the shirt up the counter as he said this, so that I could not see the other shirts, thus concentrating my attention on the one, his positive manner and his positive suggestion would have changed my momentary preference into decision. He would have saved time, both for myself and himself and created a favorable impression.

The expert salesman has this method clearly in mind in every sale. Some salesmen and salesladies do it in a haphazard way without any forethought. It is a little point in practical salesmanship which one should keep clearly in mind.

BURGLARIES REPORTED.

district attorney agreed. She was known as "The Girl in Lower Seven," this being the only clue they had to her identity. During the trial, however, her identity came out.

MOTHERS' CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR SEASON

The Oakland Federation of Mothers' Clubs, comprising nineteen local organizations, held its initial meeting for the season this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce, under the direction of the society's president, Mrs. C. E. Wilson.

It had been the original plan of the Federation to have the numerous candidates for the office of County Superintendent of Schools speak at the meeting, but this feature has been postponed. The principle business of the gathering today was the election of chairmen for the season's work.

ATTENDED INSANITY.

Efforts on the part of William McConnell, an alleged horse thief, to feign insanity did not last long after he had been committed to the Stockton asylum, and he will be released next week. Sheriff Harnett has received word from the asylum authorities that McConnell is apparently perfectly sane and he will arrest him when he steps out of the asylum and bring him to the County Jail pending his trial. McConnell was arrested two months ago with a stolen horse in his possession. He was near Hayward. Later several other horse thefts were laid against him. He explained that he had stolen in order to get money for a woman friend.

ARE STYLISH BANDITS.

Highly dressed young men figured in the holdup of M. Weld of 1750 Pacific avenue, which occurred at Post and Jones streets shortly after midnight. They struck him in the face and knocked him down, taking $270 from his pocket. A policeman heard his cries and had him conveyed to the Central Emergency Hospital for treatment. Detective Proll was detailed to investigate.

If This—Why Not This?

HITTING the telephone does not improve the service. When a man's watch fails to keep time properly he consults an expert—a watchmaker. Yet many, when the telephone does not work as they think it should, hammer the instrument, which is just as delicate and complicated as a fine watch.

We realize that your telephone is as liable to get out of order as your watch, automobile or sewing machine, and we therefore maintain a force of expert instrument men whose duty it is to keep every telephone in perfect working condition.

When there is trouble don't "hit your telephone." Call our Complaint Department.

TIDELAND CLAIMANTS

OFFER TO COMPROMISE

RICHMOND, Aug. 13.—An offer to settle the title to overflow lands on the Richmond waterfront, desired by the municipality for its harbor development without litigation has been made by Attorney Emil Neushamer, representing the Macdonald and Henshaw interests of Oakland.

The offer is for the city to go ahead and fill in the tidelands and then to divide the area reclaimed with the claimants under old patents issued by the State of California. Under this compromise the city could go ahead with its improvements without purchasing any tidelands or going into court to condemn titles or wait until the courts finally decide the ownership. This is the same plan that has been followed out by the city of Vallejo and tideland claimants

There. The council decided that the city attorney should hold further conferences with Neusbaumer.

IS 'KODAMA' YAMAGACHI?

Kendall Murder Trail in Carmel?

Is George Kodama, the Japanese sought in connection with the disappearance of Miss Helena Wood, the Carmel artist, the Henry Yamaguchi who figured, four years ago, in the shocking Kendall murder at Casadero? This is the question that the Oakland police are to be asked. The Kendall case came under the notice of the Oakland police when the Japanese confessed to Mrs. Margaret Starbuck, wife of an Oakland architect and owner of the ranch on which the murder was committed, to killing the Kendall family. The Japanese disappeared and was never found.

The disappearance of Miss Smith has brought to light several features of interest in the case. Both men were known to be interested in a queer Oriental cult. There are marks of similarity in the description of the men. It is possible that an attempt will be made to identify the Carmel suspect's photograph here by witnesses who saw Yamaguchi.

Yamaguchi sought in connection with the disappearance of Miss Smith who, it is believed by Sheriff's posse at Carmel, has been murdered, is leader of a queer mystic cult which has spread its uncanny propaganda throughout the State, has started the officials on the case in a search that has shown the case to be in many ways parallel to the famous Kendall murder of Casadero. In the present case the girl disappeared Wednesday, August 12, after with the Japanese artist and cult leader. The man disappeared the next day, after having been declared to have a vanished another woman.

Scores of letters, from prominent society women of the East region, found in the trunk of the missing Japanese, show him to have been a leader of the queer sect which the detectives are now unearthing.

In the Kendall case Enoch Kendall, his wife, Una, and his son, Tom, disappeared July 24, 1910, and their bodies burned in a bonfire, were found near the Casadero ranch a short time after. Yamaguchi, a Japanese workman, disappeared. He was known to be identified with a queer cult. Later Yamaguchi confessed to Mrs. Margaret Starbuck of Oakland, owner of the ranch on which the Kendalls lived, that he had killed the family and disappeared. No clues were ever found leading to his capture.

Whether Yamaguchi and Kodama are the same person is the puzzle that is confronting the detectives in the Smith case, and the discovery of the letters has redoubled the efforts of the sheriff's posse now searching the hills about Point Lobos for the man.

Defy Ocean Waves Baby Dips in Ocean

The youngest bather in Capitola this season was Emily Rosenstein, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosenstein of this city. Little Emily fearlessly defied the waves of the Pacific Ocean and found much pleasure and recreation in surf bathing. She was much admired at Capitola, where the family passed the summer.

Many little folks are receiving instruction in the art of swimming. Hundreds of boys and girls of the Oakland public schools may be seen daily in the surf at Alameda, where the youngsters are showing their skill in the water.

REDUCE WAR RISK RATE TO THREE PER CENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—The local branch of Lloyd's announced this morning that the rate on war risk had been reduced to 3 per cent. This declaration will mean the immediate sailing of a large fleet of merchantmen from ports on the Pacific and Atlantic seaboard.

Ten vessels in the harbor of San Francisco, it is believed, will immediately clear from her for European ports with cargoes of canned fruit and barley. The reduction of the insurance will mean, it is thought, the quick moving of crops in English, French and American shippings. The reduction only provides for shippings to Great Britain and her possessions.

It is believed that the salmon industry will also benefit by the announcement.

ACTOR DROUET DEAD.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—Robert Drouet, actor and playwright, was found dead in his bed in an uptown hotel. He had been ill for some time. EYES TROUBLE YOU?

TRY THIS SIMPLE RECIPE.

We all know some home remedy for our minor troubles, and the use of these remedies may a doctor's bill is saved and doubtless many a life. How few know what to do when their eyes become tired and ache, or feel dry and inflamed from abuse and overuse? In the morning your eyes feel rough or sticky, or they trouble you when you read. What do you do? Most of us rush off and get glasses (perhaps at some cheap store where no skill is used in fitting our eyes), which we often do not need at all. Thousands are wearing misfit or unnecessary glasses which they might better discard and other thousands can, with a little care, probably strengthen their eyes that glasses might never be necessary. Here is a free receipt that may be relied upon to give comfort and to help the eyes of some people. It is harmless and has the enthusiastic endorsement of thousands who have used it:

5 Grains Optina (1 tablet), 5 Grains Water.

Use as an eye wash night and morning, or often if possible. It makes most eyes feel fine, quickly allays irritation, brightens the eyes and sharpens the vision. Many who have used it no longer feel the need of glasses; many others have ceased to fear that they will soon be obliged to wear them. Get the Optina tablets from nearest druggist and prepare the solution at your own home.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Henricus Graf, secretary of the City of Paris department store, and for a great many years a confidential employee of the concern, dropped dead at 11 o'clock this morning in the office of the Anglo London Paris National Bank. He was 65 years old and is survived by his widow.

Graf had gone to the bank on business for the firm and was to the private office of Vice-President Friedlander when he fell over on the floor. President Friedlander and Friedlander hurried toward him and raised him up, but life was extinct. Graf lived at 2515 Octavia street. He had been connected with the City of Paris longer than any other living employee. He had raised himself from one position to another until he reached the post of honor held when he died today.

RATE CASE REHEARING DENIED BY COMMISSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—The State Railroad Commission this morning denied the application of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for a rehearing in the rate case brought against it by the town of Antioch, Contra Costa county. The commission reduced the lighting rate from 8 cents for the first kilowatt to 7 cents for the first twenty kilowatts. A base rate of $0.0913 per kilowatt was also determined by the commission to be used in fixing the cost of energy delivered at the gates of any city which the company served.

The corporation asks for a rehearing of the matter, but this has been refused.

FAIR RIVER MILLS, Shasta county, Aug. 18.—A forest fire, in the timber on the north side of Pit river, started with the burning of the sawmill and lumber yard of J. P. Ray of Carbon.

Ray's loss is heavy, as his sawmill, lumber yard and several buildings were destroyed.

OMAHA, Aug. 18.—R. The women parading in automobiles in the women suffrage cause arrived on the scene when matters were at their worst, their leader made an appeal for free speech and the crowd dispersed. No arrests were made.

WOMEN FURNISH LINK.

Another link in the similarity of the two cases is furnished by Miss M. De Neale Morgan, Oakland artist, now at Carmel. She believes that there is a strong similarity between the Kendall case and the present mystery, and who also connected the disappearance of Miss Smith and the recent attempt to poison Miss Alice McGowan, the Carmel novelist. Miss Grace McGowan, sister of the novelist is also of the belief that the two cases are connected.

The attempt against Miss McGowan was made April 6, when strychnine was sprinkled on her food.

While the Carmel bay is being dragged for the body of Miss Smith, a force of patrolmen from the Sheriff's office is patrolling the shores and searching parties in launches are also out.

A queer sidelight on the character of the Japanese was cast by his fellow employees at the Alcoa Electric Company. That place is a Japanese colony. The Japanese, while employed as a cook there, displayed a lust for blood and used to insist on himself killing cats, pigs and other animals used for food. A search of his room disclosed a long knife, sharp as a razor, and rudely fashioned from an old file.

Photographs of the Japanese have been found and are being sent to the police.

ARTISTS SIGN PETITION.

Among the 150 signers of the petition were Mary Austin, M. de Neale Morgan, an artist, Grace Sartwell Mason, novelist and many other prominent residents and visitors to Carmel.

Miss Smith's brother, Ruel Smith, telegraph editor of the New York World, is now on his way to Carmel from the East. At his orders a private detective has been engaged to work on the case.

The theory of murder is hourly gaining ground. It has developed that Kodama tried to hire a horse and wagon on the night of Miss Smith's disappearance. It is thought that if he killed her he had need for the conveyance in order to remove the body from the hangar to some lonely spot in the thick chapparal in forests surrounding Carmel or to the sea.

It is also known that he showed a woman in Monterey with whom he was on friendly terms the figures of a check which he asked her to cash. She thinks the figures were "123." The check which Miss Smith is known to have received was for $323.

Such queerest feature connected with the disappearance of Miss Smith is that her pet black poodle King, to which she was devoted, is missing. If she wandered away during a sudden attack of amnesia, it seems inexplicable that the dog has not returned.

SCHOOL COBBLERS OUT OF WORK; NEED FUNDS

Owing to insufficiency of funds the cobbling plant in the Franklin school of East Oakland has ceased its operations and the juvenile cobblers are anxiously awaiting for the Oakland Board of Education to open the plant. The Parent-Teachers Association of the Franklin school purchased the plant last season and paid the salary to the special teachers. The cobblers proved very popular and about seventy-five enrolled in that branch of study. They manufactured their own shoes and repaired them.

The cobblers' art will continue to be taught in that institution as soon as the Board of Education will defray the expenses of an instructor.

PACIFIC MAIL IN LIFE OR DEATH APPLICATION

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 18.—Life or death for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, according to General Manager R. P. Schwerin, is involved in its application to the Interstate Commerce Commission under the Panama canal act to continue in its coastal business from San Francisco to Mexican ports reached by the Southern Pacific Railroad, owner of the steamship company.

The application was heard yesterday by Commissioner Henry C. Hall of Denver, assisted by Special Examiner A. J. Gutheim. Unless the company can continue its business to the southern coast, said Schwerin, it can not maintain itself as a trans-Pacific carrier and must pass out of existence.

The point at issue is the traffic from San Francisco to the port of Mazatlan, which the Southern Pacific reaches through Nogales.

FLOOD IN ALASKA.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 18.—Constant rain during the last week has caused a flood in the Tanana valley, and yesterday the river was higher than it had been since the flood of 1905. The bridge, which goes out every spring when the ice breaks up, is easily replaced, and the damage was not great. The water is still rising.
